Filled Vacant Seat

THE Boulgers were about to start on an automobile ride, when a friend who was to have gone telephoned that she was too ill to make the trip. Who would have the vacant seat? A telephone call to another friend found her ready and eager to accept the short notice invitation.

When it is necessary to change plans, the Telephone is invaluable in making last-moment arrangements.

STATE SEIZES RECORDS.

Louisville, Ky.—Representatives of the state insurance department, at Frankfort, officially seized the records, maps, schedules and charts of the Kentucky Actuarial Bureau for the purpose of conducting an investigation of the private affairs of that organization.

T. M. Goodloe, representing the state board, accompanied by three deputies, walked into the actuarial bureau's office, took possession of the private filing room and began copying surveys and records and all important documents on rates made by the bureau on real and personal properties made on various risks in cities and towns throughout the commonwealth. This action was taken over the protest of Clem E. Wheeler, manager of the bureau, and the companies supporting it.

UNCLE SAM OBJECTS TO COST.

Bowling Green, Ky.—If the department of justice at Washington approves arrangements made by Federal Inspector of Prisons J. F. Fishman with the jailer at Russellville, all Federal prisoners now confined in the Warren county jail may be transferred to Russellville. Mr. Fishman was in Bowling Green recently and made an effort to have Jailer Austin B. Claypool reduce the price of 75 cents a day for the keep of the prisoners. Jailer Claypool believes he is entitled to this amount as the law provides that jailers shall receive for federal prisoners the rate provided by the state law, which is 75 cents a day.

PASS RIGID CURFEW LAW.

Elkton, Ky.—Trustees of the town of Fairview have passed a curfew ordinance, making it unlawful for youths under 17 years of age to be on the streets after 9 o'clock at night from February 1 to November 1, and after 7 o'clock from November 1 to February 1, the penalty for violation of same to be a fine of $1 or a whipping to be administered in the presence of the police judge or marshal by the parent or guardian.

It also passed an ordinance imposing a fine of from $10 to $20 on any person trespassing upon the property of the Jefferson Davis Home Association.

CLOSING AUCTION SALE DAY.

Lexington, Ky.—At a meeting of the Lexington tobacco warehousemen it was unanimously decided to close the auction sales for the season on Tuesday, March 31. As practically all of the crop raised in this section seems to have been sold it was decided that what was left could easily be cleaned up by that date.

The sales aggregated 125,000 pounds, with $19.50 a hundred the top price. While most of the offerings were of poor quality, there were a few fair lots sold and on the whole the grades were better than for several days.

NO DEMAND FOR MULES.

Elkton, Ky.—Although hundreds of mules were offered for sale here County Court day, there were remarkably few buyers, not more than half a dozen, so far as reported, changing hands. Owners held out for good prices, as they have practically carried their stock through the winter, and a notable feature was the fact that foreign dealers, usually heavy buyers, were on the market as sellers. The highest price paid reached $200 a head.

ANOTHER WHITE HOUSE WEDDING

Engagement of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Eleanor Wilson, President's Youngest Daughter

THE announcement of the engagement of Miss Eleanor Wilson, youngest daughter of President and Mrs. Wilson, has caused country-wide attention. While gossips for some time had linked the name of the pair, the declaration that they were to be married created a big stir at the capital, and the news was quickly heralded to all parts of the country.

On several occasions since the wedding of Miss Jessie Wilson to Francis B. Sayre those who claimed to know considerable of the affairs of the president's family had it that Miss Margaret Wilson was engaged. As quickly as these rumors assumed the proportions of news items they were promptly and emphatically denied at the White House. When, however, the final declaration was made that the youngest daughter of the president and the builder of the Hudson tubes and the present secretary of the treasury is fond of society and has many friends in Washington outside of the administration circle. She is a good dancer. Mr. McAdoo has been her most frequent dancing partner at the informal dances of the Chevy Chase club. She has recently joined the Riding and Hunt club and follows the hounds.

Miss Wilson was educated in private schools at Princeton and then spent two years in St. Mary's college at Raleigh, N. C., of which the president was Dr. McNeely Duhose, whose wife was an intimate friend of Mrs. Wilson. She had acquired a taste for painting from her mother and spent two years, after leaving St. Mary's, in studying at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia.

Mr. McAdoo was born at Marietta, Ga., on Oct. 3, 1863. He attended the University of Tennessee, but left college in his junior year to become deputy clerk of the United States circuit court at Chattanooga. He was admitted to the bar at the age of twenty-one and practiced for awhile in Chattanooga. He became interested in railroad affairs when he held the post of division counsel for the Central Railroad and Banking company and the Richmond and Danville railroad. He went to New York in 1892 and in 1898 formed a partnership with William McAdoo, afterward chief magistrate of New York city. In 1902 he organized the company which acquired the old tunnel under the Hudson that was begun in 1874 and proved a failure. In 1903 he was elected president of the Hudson and Manhattan railroad company, the $70,000,000 corporation which built and controls the Hudson river tubes.

were betrothed, friends of Miss Wilson and Mr. McAdoo declared that the engagement had existed for several weeks. It was said that Mr. McAdoo virtually acknowledged the engagement at the dinner given by him in Miss Wilson's honor soon after his return to Washington, on Feb. 10, from his long trip on the business of locating reserve banks.

In default of statements to the contrary, official Washington took it for granted that another White House wedding would take place in June, following the adjournment of congress. It was known that Mr. McAdoo had been a frequent caller at the White House during the past year and had been much in the company of Miss Wilson, so that Washington society was not taken completely by surprise at the report and only awaited the official acknowledgment of the parents of Miss Wilson.

Mr. McAdoo's Career.
Mr. McAdoo is fifty years old and Miss Wilson twenty-four. Mr. McAdoo became a grandfather recently, when a son was born to his eldest daughter, who is the same age as Miss Wilson, at her home in Arizona.

Miss Eleanor Wilson is tall and dark, unlike her sisters, Mrs. Francis B. Sayre and Miss Margaret Wilson. She
